Are you a clinician or scientist
with an interest in bone?

Would you like to join an organisation which will support your professional development?

Do you have an interest in promoting excellence in research and clinical treatment of bone and its diseases?

If so, we invite you to join us!

The Bone Research Society (BRS) was formerly the Bone and Tooth Society.

Membership Details

The BRS is the largest national society in Europe dedicated to clinical and basic research into mineralised tissues, and is the oldest such society in the world.

Meetings are held annually, attracting a wide audience from throughout the UK and, increasingly, from continental Europe. The presentations are traditionally balanced between clinical and laboratory studies. They are published in abstract form in the Journal of Bone and Mineral Research, the leading journal in the field. The participation of young scientists and clinicians is actively encouraged.
